

Where Fashion Works.

Visual | Simple | Secure

We've outlined a typical workflow within the fashion B2B lifecycle, showing you how RangeRoom works across the process.

You can also see how your cross-functional teams (internal & external) can collaborate along these crucial touch points using RangeRoom. The circles show at which point your teams are part of the process & where their key touch points are.

RangeRoom enables these functions at each stage of the workflow:

- One source of truth
- Speed to market
- All shareable
- Chat in real time
- Visibility for all
- IP protected
- Tangible workflow efficiency

How can RangeRoom benefit you?

Consumer-facing technology has developed at lightning speed.

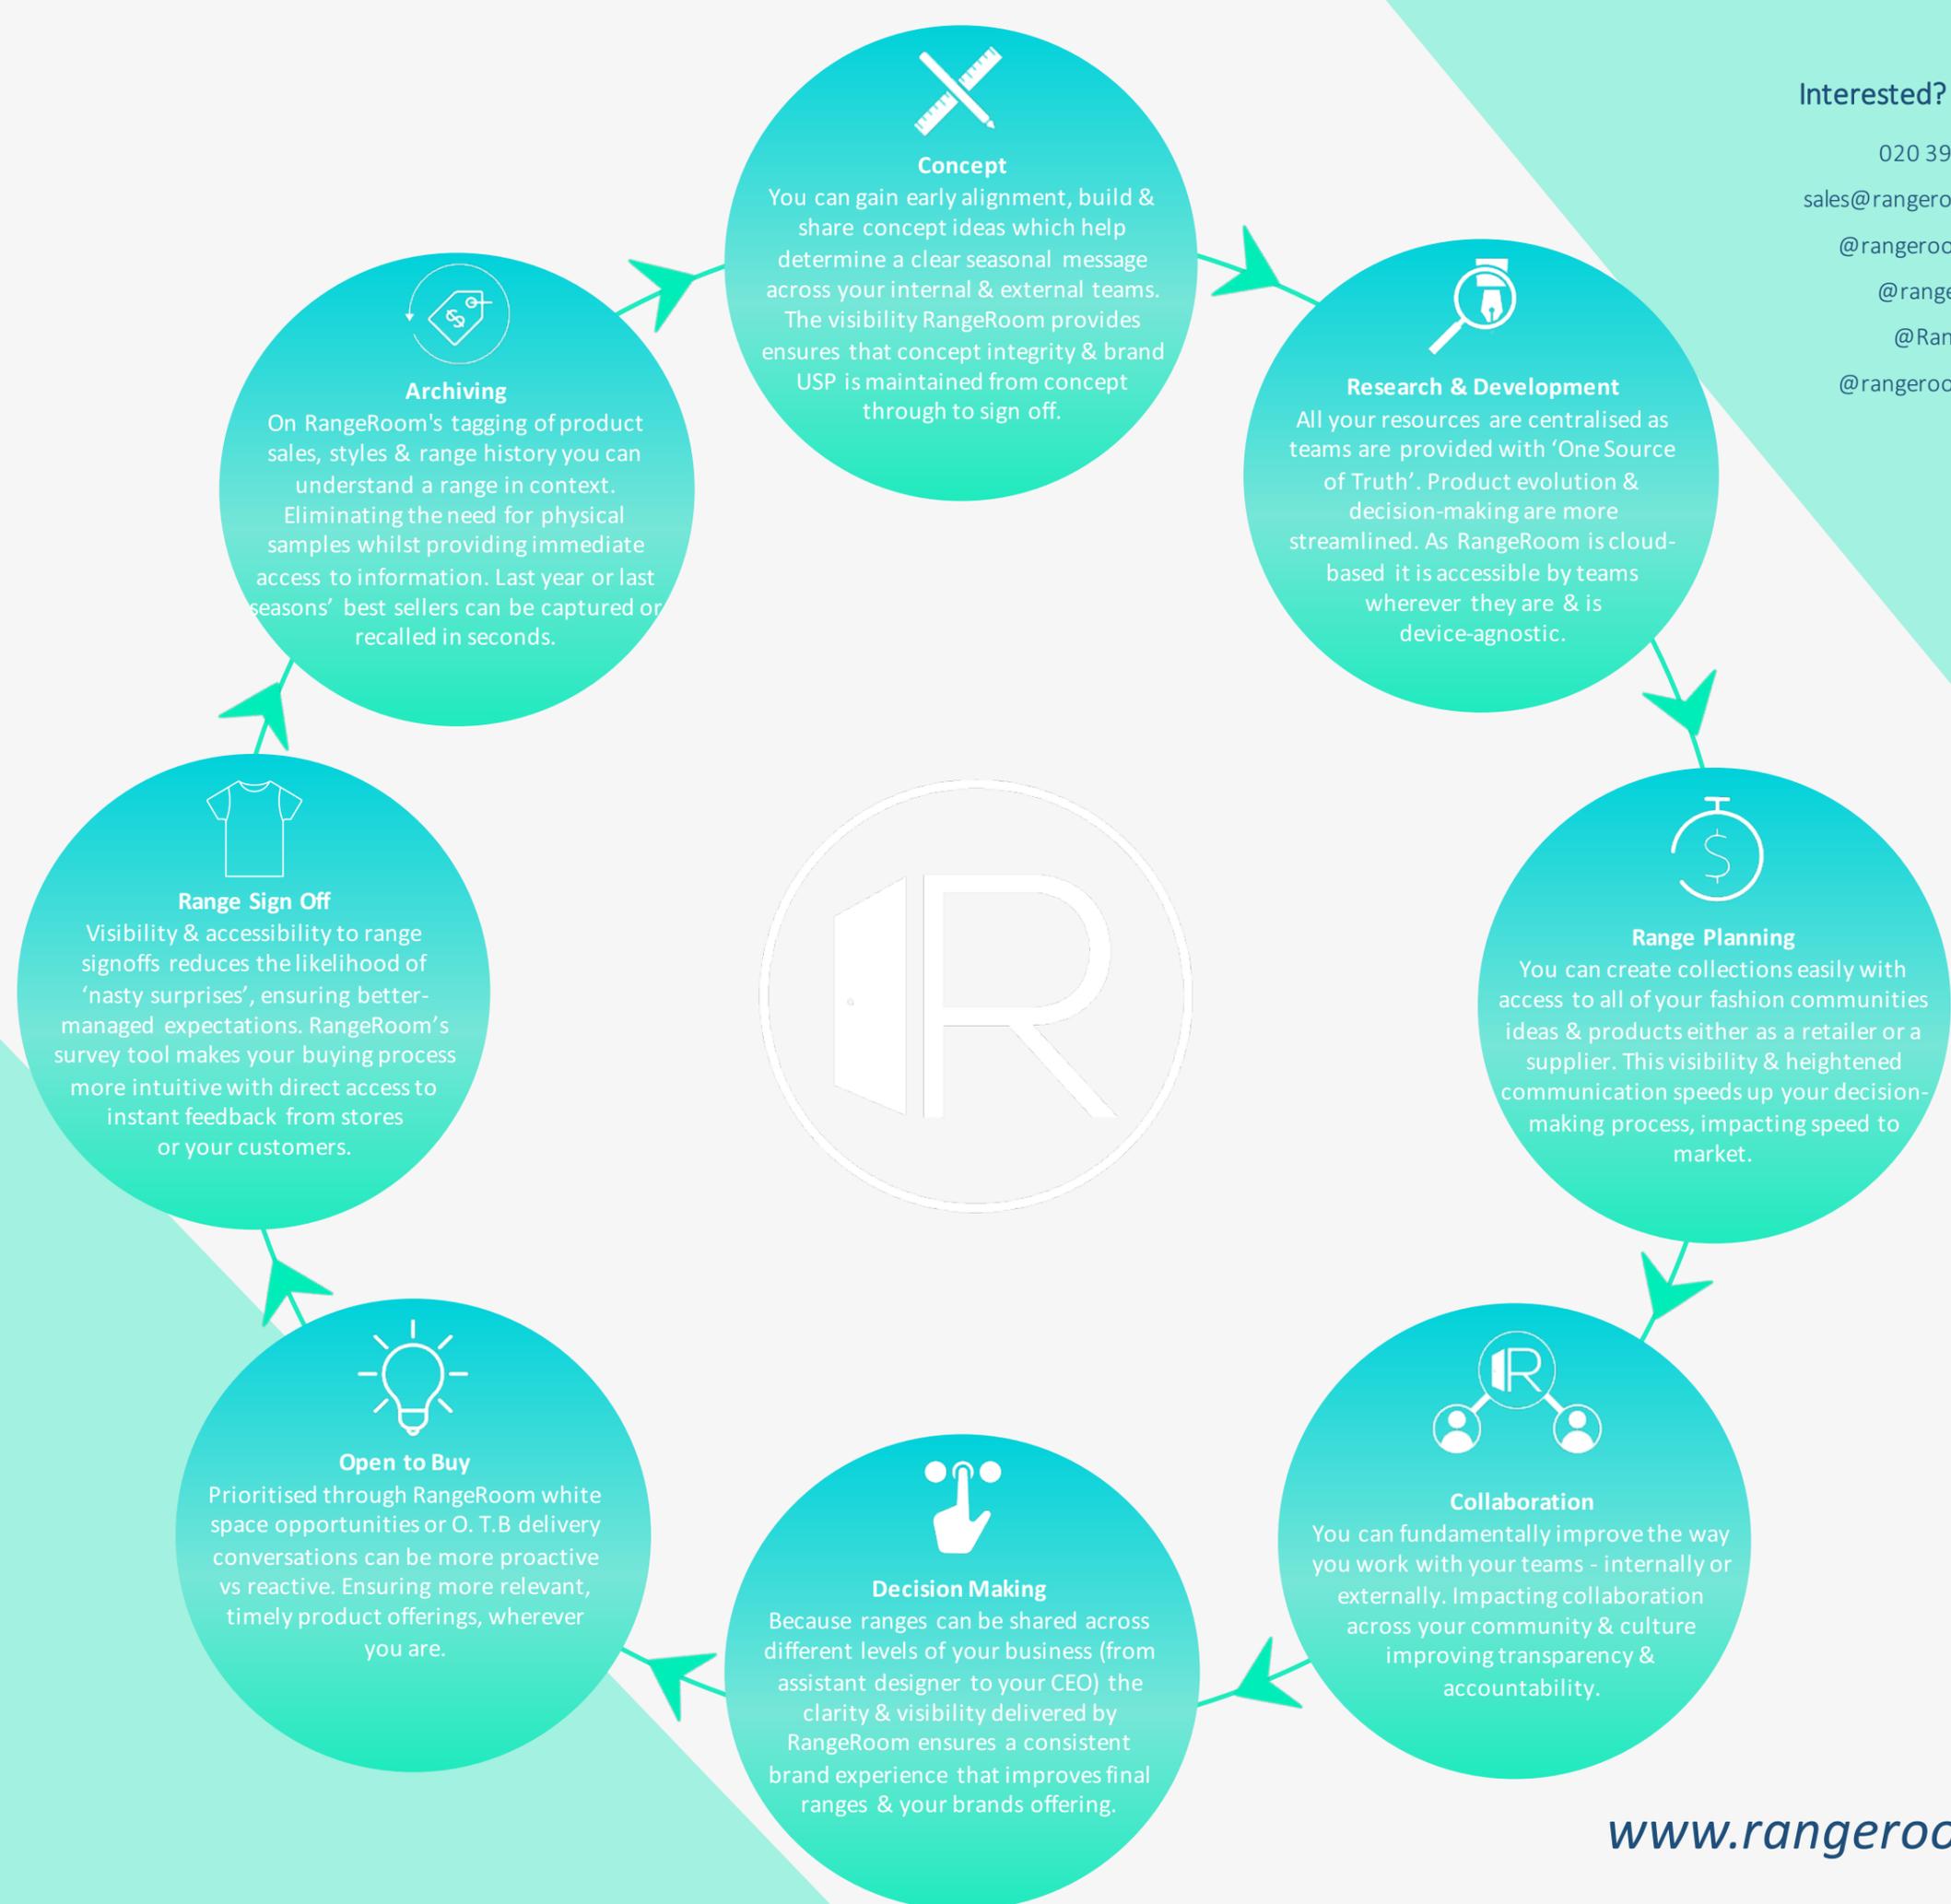

Now it's time for the B2B technology to catch up & get the support that reflects the increasingly sophisticated demands on retailers & their suppliers.

Looking around we saw the vast network of teams who needed to be better informed, with smarter technology that articulated, communicated & supported the delivery of the products of the future & so RangeRoom was born....

Here we show you how RangeRoom supports the different needs & functions, of the different teams along the product development lifecycle – internally or externally.

Each step shows the benefits that we provide through the centralised visibility, easy collaboration, workflow efficiency & real-time communication.

Simply & securely.
